

LMG: Empowering Women Health Leaders

Inspired Leadership.
Sound
Management.
Transparent
Governance.

In This Issue

Creating Conditions to Allow Women to Move into Health Leadership
Thoughts on Links between Gender and Universal Health Coverage
LMG Project Offers Gender Support to the Ethiopian Ministry of Health

 Join Our Mailing List

 Send to a Colleague

LMG eNewsletter - May 2013

Creating Conditions to Allow Women to Move into Health Leadership

An East Java midwife fills in recruitment forms at a workshop for midwives in Indonesia. © 2005 Catherine Harbour, Courtesy of Photoshare.

Join the Conversation

Visit LMG for Health

Like us on Facebook

Follow us on twitter

View our videos on YouTube

News

LMG @ Women Deliver

LMG will be hosting a panel to discuss why moving women into health leadership is a critical issue. Read more...

Follow LMG during Women Deliver: #WD2013.

LMG Blog Launched!

Read what others have to say and enter the dialogue through comments, likes and tweets.

Consortium Partners

The Leadership, Management & Governance (LMG) Project's mandate to improve health outcomes provides opportunities to address gender equity and good governance in health systems.

Read on...

Thoughts on Links between Gender and Universal Health Coverage

Rural health worker with child in Mali.

Universal Health Coverage (UHC) can have a positive effect upon the health of women and girls. Health leaders, managers, and those who govern should take this into consideration when strengthening their health systems.

Connect with us at:

imgforhealth@msh.org

Read on...

LMG Project Offers Gender Support to the Ethiopian Ministry of Health

Women listen to a health worker in the Afar region of Ethiopia. © 2009 Quique Bassat/CRESIB, Courtesy of Photoshare.

In Ethiopia, gender equality is an important goal, and all development sectors--from agriculture to education to health--require gender mainstreaming to move development activities forward.

Read on...